Glenfield Redmen

Whilst the origins are somewhat murky, Redmen reportedly were formed from a group of Westlake school leavers in 1998, who, finding no other side wanted them, set about forming their own team at nearby Albany. There were even rumours of something called training, but that was quickly stamped out sometime last century.

Starting at the bottom of the division the only way was up, and back-to-back league titles in 2003 and 2004 and promotion to the 3rd division saw the Redmen flying high. Sadly, like another team known as the Reds, league success has been relatively hard to come by over the last 15 years where only a few heartbreaking 2nd place finishes (yes Jimbo, I should have passed you the ball...) could be delivered for the fans (yes – sometimes there was more than one).

But like their aforementioned namesakes, the Redmen have found regular cup success, with cup wins in 2008, 2012, and 2018 to keep the trophy cabinet from being put on Trademe.

Following that most recent success, the Redmen were lured 7km south to the yellow and black of Glenfield – a decision we have thoroughly enjoyed. So given we now turn out in yellow and black, much like 3M, our Redmen name is now just a curiosity of our history.

But a fine history it is – with goalkeepers scoring goals, defenders scoring last minute equalisers in cup semi-finals, three Redmen managing to seriously injure fingers in the same game, and a veteran of 268 scoreless games popping up with the winner in a cup final in his 269th. And with no less than 17 players racking up over 100 appearances for the team, and 8 of those racking up 200 appearances we like to think of ourselves as the footballing equivalent of Hotel California – you can sub off any time you like, but you can never leave.
